

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Thursday, Sept. 20, 2005

CONTACT: Shonna Butler
479-575-5221

SPACE PHOTONICS HURRICANE KATRINA RELIEF

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. --- Space Photonic's employees contributed their time, money, and sweat to bring supplies and donations to the Salvation Army in Fayetteville on Wednesday. The company matched employee donations and purchased water and food and other supplies to help the victims of Hurricane Katrina.

Matt Leftwich unloads cases of water.

Matt Leftwich hands a case of water to Tony Hull.

Chuck Chalfant assists a Salvation Army worker with boxes of food.

